Following upon Mr. Bogart's aunouncement, a gentleman representing an estate of eighteen lots near the Leake & Watt's Orphan Asylum, on the plateau above Mouningside Fark, called at the headquarters of the Committee on Sito this merning and offered the use of those lots at the Committee's own terms.

Speaking for another gentlemen representing eighteen other lots in the same neighborhood, he said that they, too, could be had as chearly.

One of the small lettow sers whose property is included in the location named by the Committee urges that a public appeal be made to the owners of land to be taken for the site to come forward and offer their property for the Fair.

He says many of them are holding back for fear of ridicule at the comparison of their small offerings with the immense area which will be required for the Exposition. If some of the wealthy holders would take the initiative he says that the small intowners will follow.

Mayor Grant's letter requesting his co-operation in securing the holding of the Fair in New York, writes as follows:

Result of a Quarrel That Has Lasted Two Years.

Work on the new twelve-story granite-front building of the Union Trust Company, in Broadway, near Wall street, is at a standstill to-day because of the strike of 140 union mechanics, who refuse to handle the boycotted bunding material supplied by Peck, Martin,

The strike was ordered by the Board of Walking Delegates of the Building Trades. and is the first of a series determined upon by that body against Peck, Martin & Co., with whom the union men have been at odds during the past two years.

One of the delegates said to-day that the strike was not directed against the contractor. David H. King, Ir., with whom the Union men offensive attack on Peck, Martin and Co., but it is directed against the latter because of their persistent efforts to break up the unions and their alleged prosecution and persecution of union delegates and union workmen.

The union men will not go to work on the Union Trust Company's building until Mr. King stops taking material from Peck, Martin & Co., or the latter quit their warfare and employ only union hands.

The Beard of Pelegates, backed by the Building Trades Section and the Central Labor Union, have determined to order strikes, it is said, on the new buildings at Worth and Central streets. Haster and Lonard streets, Eightyfitth street and Ninth avenue. Madison Square Garden and Medison avenue and Forty-fifth street, where Peck, Martin & Co. are furnishing brick and other materials.

Members of the Board of Delegates remain at the Union Trust Company's building, ready to confer with Mr. King, but they assart that they will not yield nor compromise until Peck, Martin & Co. give up their warfare on the unions.

Mr. King is classed as an employer of union mechanics, and it is expected that he will bring some pressure to bear to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty.

The strike or the Union Trust Company's building will seriously retard the work unless quickly settled.

One of the delegates showed an Evening Wong, Desporter two affidavits from union men, which set forth that they had been threatened by non-union employees with being thrown into the river, and had been compelled to stop work, while laboring at the foot of One Hundred and Thirty-seventh street.

The striking workmen do not congregate about the building, and not the slightest demonstration is made against the few non-union laborers who are as work.

Peck, Martin & Co. continue to deliver brick at the New street front of the building, and the roadway is pretty well obstructed because the material is not removed.

Mr. Doyle told Judge Barrett that he failed to see the authority which could have obtained a writ of habeas corpus, since neither Mrs. Brown nor Mrs. Christopher G. Wemple, the stepmother of young Wemple, had any claim on the girl, who will be twenty-one years of age May 0, 18°0.

Judge Barrett requested to see the petition, and upon perusing it remarked:

"I do not see any authority here."

"In certain cases, Your Honor, any one can apply for a labeas corpin," said Mr. Andrews,
"Here is a letter from the young man, in which he admits taking her away."

He submitted a letter which Harry had written in the Fifth Avenue Hotel to Mrs. Brown, and which stated that Netties was in good hands and would be well taken care of,
"We consider this case an outrage reflecting on the character of an exemplary young man," said Mr. Doyle. "I would like to test an affidavit of Mr. Harry Wemple and have it filed."

In his affidavit Harry affirmed that he did not take the girl away except by her consent to place her with friends at 75 Poplar street, Brooking that she was not detained for any purpose, and that she would appear in court whenever the Judge desired it.

PITTERT BG, Sect. 28.—The big Butler County well known as Campbell & Murphy No. 1. which came in late last Saturday night, has brought joy to the hearts of Mrs. Catherine Greenert and her family of nine children, on whose farm the gusher is located. Edward I. Greenert, who has a power of attorney to act for the others, is a carpenter. When The Wontr correspondent saw him Greenert picked up a piece of board, on one side of which was an array of figures. "I was just figuring out my moome, said he. "The figures 3,840 mean the total daily production of the two wells. We get one-ciphus and the operators accensights. We get 480 barrets a day, and the oil, with the premium, is worth $1,20 per barret." The total income of the Greenert family, it was found, was over $500 per day. Greenert and her family of nine children, on
